Settings up WiFi For a small Hotel

2019/11/03

Hello there I want to set up WiFi access for a small hotel no more than 15 rooms in three floors in total. The thing is that some one has "fixed" it last year by installing a small access point and some powerline adapters. And an extender. These things do not work anymore for one reason or other, and only the access point is still accessible. My question now. replace the access point with a better one and add one or two antennas that are connected to it via cable, that means that it needs to have detachable antennae. So I would like you to recommend an access point and two antennae, something that does not need much maintenance since they are technology illiterate and I can't be around all the time to fix some disconnection problems... Or maybe a different solution to my problem?? IT is my field of work, but I really hate these networking problems and since I have another day job (currently night shift tho) I don't have the time to be there always. I apologise for my poor English syntax, but I have had some time to use my English tech terms online.
